

Federal Council wants to transition e-voting into regular operation

27.06.2018

Confederation

At its meeting on 27 June 2018, the Federal Council examined the final report of the “Vote électronique” group of experts and made various decisions regarding the next steps for e-voting. It wants to create a legal basis for the transition of electronic voting into regular operation. This should enable e-voting with minimal paper. The cantons can still decide themselves whether they would like to implement e-voting. Furthermore, eligible voters will of course still be free to cast their vote in person or by post.

Link to Federal Council press release dated 27 June 2018 (in German)

Link to “Vote électronique” group of experts’ final report (in German)

Share

We use cookies to provide you with a user-friendly website and personalized advertisements and offers. Further details can be found in our Data Privacy Statement.

Close note

20.06.2018 | The Federal Council approved the use of e-voting in the Canton of Thurgau for a two-year period.

More

11.06.18 | E-voting enables the electorate to cast their votes and vote in elections electronically wherever they are and supplements the two existing options. Thanks to universal verifiability, voters and electoral authorities have full control at all times over the votes cast and can reliably detect any manipulation.

More

23.04.2018 | Phishing attacks are ubiquitous on the Internet. But what exactly is phishing and how can you protect yourself against it when using e-voting?

More

© 2019 Swiss Post Ltd

Data protection and disclaimer

General Terms and Conditions

Accessibility

Publication details

Jobs & careers

We use cookies to provide you with a user-friendly website and personalized advertisements and offers. Further details can be found in our Data Privacy Statement.

Close note